PROBERS TO CALL MURRAY TO STAND

Comptroller of Currency to Be Witness in Investigation of Money Trust.

Further details of the business of J. P. Morgan & Co. are to be brought out, and a portrayal given of how the alleged Money Trust forced to the wall men who owned industrial and other corporations, such as railroads and steamship lines, when the House Money Trust investigators return to their task after the holidays.

Counsel Undermyer, for the committee, is pleased with the result of his examination of J. P. Morgan, and while the committee declines to give an advance list of witnesses it will call it is known that Morgan was not the first of the great financial figures that will be called to testify.

Undermyer plans to put Lawrence O. Murray, Comptroller of the Currency, on the stand early in January. Undermyer wants to know just how far the present Federal supervision of national banks extends, particularly in the matter of the knowledge of bank examiners as to the collateral these banks carry for loans.

It is said to be common knowledge in Wall Street that not a single bank has an accurate record of the securities it has had in its vaults from time to time as the security of loans.

There are now only a dozen men actually under subpoena by the committee, although it is understood many more are to be called. The only one obtainable as to how many more witnesses will be called was the statement of consulting counsel that the hearings could last until February 1.

SALOON'S ENEMIES ELECT OFFICERS

Anti-Saloon League Meets at First Presbyterian Church and Hears Report.

Rev. A. W. Spooner scored the House District Committee at a meeting of the Anti-Saloon League at First Presbyterian Church last night for its dilatory conduct of District affairs. He offered a resolution of censure upon the action of this committee, from which, he said, it was impossible to get consideration of legislative measures of urgent necessity to this city. The resolution was referred to the committee on legislation.

A. H. Spooner, attorney for the league, made a comprehensive report upon what has been accomplished during the past year. He complained that much more could be done, were it not for the fact that it is almost impossible to get the laws in Police Court. Of this difficulty he gave several examples. He also mentioned the difficulty of enforcing the law prohibiting the sale of intoxicants to minors, and told a story, in illustration, of a friend who, to determine whether his sixteen-year-old son could buy drinks or not, offered the boy $5 for every glass of beer he could purchase at the city bars. The boy won $15 and had fifteen drinks in fifteen saloons.

New officers of the league chosen last night were: President, Andrew Wilson; vice presidents, James L. Ewin, Rev. Charles H. Butler, William Knowles Cooper, Rev. Donald C. McLeod, Percy S. Foster, Rev. G. A. Miller, Rev. G. F. Dudley, Rev. J. Milton Waldron, Rev. L. McDowell; chaplain, Rev. A. W. Spooner; secretary, G. W. Callahan; financial secretary, H. V. IMPEDED BY HIGH PRICES.

Development of Coal Lands Discussed by Representative Mondell.

Correspondence between Secretary of the Interior Fisher and Representative P. F. Mondell of Wyoming, regarding the sale of certain lands near Rock Springs, Wyo., at a high price, shows that the price charged by the government does not discourage coal land sales for immediate development, though they do discourage buying for speculative holding or control, thereby discouraging a monopoly.

Secretary Fisher's reply, as made public yesterday, calls attention to the fact that the sale of certain lands near Rock Springs, Wyo., at a high price, shows that the price charged by the government does not discourage coal land sales for immediate development, though they do discourage buying for speculative holding or control, thereby discouraging a monopoly.

TURKEY SPECIAL ARRIVES.

Train Bearing 30,000 Birds Comes from Eastern Tennessee.

Christmas shipments of turkeys from Eastern Tennessee points for Washington, Baltimore, and New York reached their most imposing proportions yesterday afternoon with the arrival of a special train bearing 30,000 birds.

The total movement from this territory for the Eastern Christmas markets aggregates 150,000 turkeys, the great majority of them going to New York.

The Christmas turkey special, which reached the Potomac yards via the Southern Railway a few minutes before 6 o'clock, last evening, was transferred here to the Pennsylvania.

Thanksgiving and Christmas turkeys produced in Eastern Tennessee aggregate in value roughly $2,000,000, and season has been especially favorable, although prices broke badly on the Thanksgiving market.

THIEVES ARE BUSY.

Christmas shoppers and Christmas merchants are feeling the presence of Christmas thieves, and yesterday a number of robberies were reported to the police.

Yesterday morning a box containing a luxurious ham, a fat turkey, and an assortment of fruit and groceries lay temptingly in a wagon at Center Market belonging to H. C. Young, a farmer of Galen Green, Md. When Mr. Young returned to his wagon a little later the box had "gone South."

Whether or not the same thief was at work in the 200 block on Third Street Northwest, the police are unable to say, but there a bakery wagon was relieved of no less than fifty crisp loaves of bread.

Mrs. B. C. Myers, of 20 H Street Northwest, lost a pocketbook containing $1 in one of the downtown stores, and in another Mrs. Curtis, of the Combstead, was relieved of a bag containing $2 and Mrs. Henry Hart, of 675 Maryland Avenue Southwest, lost her purse containing $5.

CAUSED DISMISSAL OF SUIT.

On the voluntary motion of Mrs. Julia M. Russell, Justice Barnard has dismissed her suit for divorce from her husband. The costs of the proceedings were assessed against her, as is usual when a plaintiff withdraws a suit.

George H. Macdonald, attorney for Mrs. Russell, stated yesterday that Justice Barnard did not base on the merits of the charges made by his client. He said that he made application for an extension of time to prepare for trial, as he had only recently been retained in place of former counsel.

The application for extension was denied by Justice Barnard, and Mr. Macdonald thought best to advise a discontinuance under the circumstances.
